

Ms. Ana Pipio

Ana Pipio has an academic background on engineering and has been working in the energy and environmental issues. She has worked as a consultant in several companies and as been involved in the numerous projects for governmental entities, industries, SMEs, associations and academy. She has experience of multidisciplinary and multicultural team work. She has a degree in Mechanical Engineering, Applied Thermodynamics, and a master in Economy and Policy of Energy and Environment. She is currently responsible for the technical execution of several National and International projects. She has strong experience in energy, sustainable development policies and measures, international cooperation, climate change issues and the promotion and dissemination of new technologies.